

THE TOWER PROJECT
NATIONAL GALLERY OF ART

THE TOWER PROJECT, a new program at the National Gallery of Art, provides support for modern and contemporary exhibitions in the Tower Gallery, a unique, stand-alone space that crowns the East Building. Celebrating new directions and approaches in art, the Tower Gallery will primarily feature living artists and present an extraordinary range of creativity.

With an annual gift of $2,500, you will enjoy the following privileges of membership in The Tower Project:

Invitations to previews and opening events for Tower exhibitions

Opportunities to go behind the scenes and participate in curatorial tours and programs for Tower exhibitions

Private visits to galleries and artist studios

Recognition in exhibition-related materials

In addition, members will receive these benefits:

Priority entrance to Gallery exhibitions

Invitations to private evening events and gala receptions featuring exhibitions and the permanent collection

Recognition in the Gallery's Annual Report

Access to private exhibition lectures and previews

National Gallery of Art bimonthly
Calendar of Events

Personalized membership cards, valid for a 20 percent discount at the Gallery Shops

Subscription to the Bulletin, a biannual publication for Gallery friends

Early notification of family programs and films

Access to the National Gallery of Art Library
